

Grant Writing & Grants Management

This three-credit graduate course will allow students to learn:

-  How to seek, solicit, and manage grant awards from foundation and government sources to support public and nonprofit programs and projects.

The course focuses on the strategies and process of writing effective grant proposals, and students are guided through the development of a grant proposal and will explore topics such as:

-  Searching funding sources
-  Writing compelling need statements
-  Establishing goals for funding
-  Developing SMART objectives for evaluation
-  Creating budget documents to support grant seeking

Course is being offered online Fall 2023, hours by arrangement
20:834:575
Section: 90
Index: 02561

For more information, visit business.rutgers.edu/stackable/social-entrepreneurship

If you have questions, contact Aaron Gibbs at algibbs@rutgers.edu