MPA PROGRAM

Requirements for MPA and Online MPA
All applications are completed online at http://gradstudy.rutgers.edu and require the following materials:

- Application
- Resume
- Fee of $65 – payable to Rutgers University
- Official Transcripts for colleges and universities attended (A bachelor’s degree from a recognized institution of higher education is required)
- Three Letters of Recommendation
- Personal Statement – one page explaining “Why You Are Pursuing an MPA Degree”
- GRE and TOEFL scores (if applicable*)

*All students with a GPA lower than 3.0 are required to submit GRE scores. All international students have to submit a TOEFL score.

Additional Admissions and Enrollment Requirements for International Students
The minimum acceptable TOEFL score for regular admission to the MPA program is a 90. Students that score at or above 80 but below a 90 on TOEFL may be conditionally admitted. Once admitted, all incoming international MPA students must take an assessment exam with the Rutgers-Newark Program in American Language Studies (PALS).

Students who receive less than a score of 80 out of 120 on the “Overall Oxford” measure must take the course recommended to them by PALS in their first semester in the MPA program. Students who receive above a score of 80 out of 120 on the “Overall Oxford” measure and have received at least one recommended course to take from PALS will be monitored for academic progress in their first semester. Unsatisfactory academic progress includes, but is not limited to, one course grade below a B, or an incomplete in a course. If it is deemed that a student is making unsatisfactory progress in their course work, he/she will be required to take the recommended PALS course in their second semester.

The MPA director may require students to take additional PALS courses if their “Overall Oxford” scores and academic progress indicates it is necessary. In some cases, students may not be permitted to take MPA courses until they have successfully completed a specified PALS curriculum. PALS classes are available to all international students and students are encouraged to take PALS courses, even if they are not required to do so. If a student fails to take the PALS assessment exam, they will have a dean’s hold placed on future registration, which will prevent the student from registering further until the requirements are satisfied.

Curriculum/Credits
The MPA degree at Rutgers SPAA consists of 42 credits of coursework addressing the context and application of public policy implementation; that is, the design, delivery, leadership, management, performance, and results of public and nonprofit sector activity. These sectors provide over 16 million job opportunities in the U.S. alone. Candidates for the master of public administration (MPA) degree complete 42 credits, 14 courses of 3 credits each, comprised of 11 core courses and 3 concentration/elective courses. Students are expected to take their elective courses in SPAA, and any variation requires review and approval by the MPA Director.

Core Courses
The core curriculum consists of five core areas listed below.

1. Foundational: Provides understanding of public administration contexts and key professional competencies for public and nonprofit sectors.
2. Analytical: Examines quantitative and qualitative data methods and research design.
3. Managerial: Provides foundations in organization and human resources management.
4. Financial: Examines financial contexts and budgeting skills.
5. Applications: Provides students with the opportunity to utilize what they have learned in the program via a real-world project.

Areas of Concentrations/Electives
A concentration consists of three courses (3 credits each) in an area of the student’s interest. Concentrations provide greater breadth or depth of knowledge in a specific area of public administration. In order to receive a concentration, the student must complete the three elective courses identified. Limited exceptions include the substitution of one course for another elective (with MPA Director approval), an independent study (with MPA Director approval), or an internship related to the concentration (with MPA Director approval). This policy also applies to students pursuing available concentrations in the online MPA program (Pearson).

All course listings and course descriptions with sample syllabi can be found at http://spaa.newark.rutgers.edu/mpa-course-descriptions.

Course Schedules/Syllabi

MPA core courses are offered every semester. Concentration courses are offered once per year, and therefore must be taken when they are offered. If there are any questions, you should consult with your academic advisor. Course schedules and course syllabi can be found on our website at:

For MPA: http://spaa.newark.rutgers.edu/mpa-course-schedules
For EMPA: http://spaa.newark.rutgers.edu/empa-course-schedules
For Online MPA: http://spaa.newark.rutgers.edu/onlinempa-course-schedules

Full-time Vs. Part-Time/Credit Overload

Students complete the program in two to three calendar years depending upon the number of credits taken per semester. Most MPA students are working professionals who take 6 credits per semester (part time), including summers. Nine credits per semester is considered full time at the graduate level.

In order to take 12 credits, credit overload has to be approved by the MPA Director. The student must have at least a 3.5 cumulative GPA to request credit overload.

Financial Aid

To receive financial aid, an MPA student has to register for at least 6 credits and submit a FAFSA form by the deadline. For more information, please visit the Office of Financial Aid at https://studentaid.rutgers.edu/. There are no financial loans available for the winter session.

Internship

The MPA Program does not require an internship, but encourages internships for pre-career and career-changing students. Rutgers SPAA assists on-campus MPA students in locating internship opportunities with an expanding network of partners in the Newark urban area in local, county, and state government organizations, and among dozens of nonprofit organizations in the surrounding areas. Additionally, the school circulates information about available national and international internship opportunities via regular email announcements. Approval from the MPA Director is required before any internship taken for academic credit begins. Students are limited to one 3-credit internship; if a student takes an internship, the credits count toward the student’s concentration, which means he/she takes two elective courses from his/her concentration, rather than the customary three. An internship must be related to the student’s concentration. After the MPA Director approves the request, the student will complete the internship contract and submit it to the department for a special permission number to register for credit. An internship can only count for an elective and cannot replace a core course.

Requirements to receive credits for internship:

- Submit a completed contract
- Complete 150 hours of work within one semester
- Submit mid-semester and final evaluations (by the supervisor and the student)
• Submit a 10 to 20-page research paper relating the internship to the student’s concentration (if applicable) at the end of the semester

Independent Study

Independent study is available on a very limited basis as a concentration course for students to investigate a specific topic or issue in depth. Independent study occurs under the direct supervision of a core faculty member. Independent study requires permission from the supervising faculty member and MPA Director approval before students may register. Independent study is limited to 3 credits during the course of the MPA program, and it may count as either a concentration course (with approval) or an elective; Independent Study cannot substitute for a core course.

Requirements to receive credits for independent study:

- Approval from a SPAA faculty member to direct the independent study.
- Submit a detailed description of the proposed topic, the deliverables to be assessed, and a recommendation letter from the supervising faculty member to be considered by the MPA Director for approval.
- The typical minimum deliverable for Independent Study consists of a substantial research paper, including: literature review, collection of data, analysis. The supervising faculty may require additional assignments.

Capstone

The Capstone course provides students with an opportunity to integrate learning from various courses with analysis of real-world issues. Making use of the classroom setting and encouraging teamwork, the capstone project consists of a project design, action plan, and implementation. Students, under guidance of a faculty member, carry out data collection and analysis, evaluate their findings, and provide conclusions and recommendations. The outputs are a project report and PowerPoint presentation to fellow students, faculty members, and invited guests. The capstone seminar serves as a culminating experience in the MPA program.

The Capstone course meets once a week throughout the semester. The course allows students to draw on material presented throughout the curriculum to develop and conduct an applied research project on a topic salient to public or nonprofit administration. This seminar will prepare students to use the skills they have developed throughout the program to analyze and solve key problems of public management and policy. Students will complete practical analytic papers suitable for publication or public consumption as their key graded assignment. These papers will demonstrate each student’s abilities and their collective body of skills and knowledge acquired throughout the MPA curriculum. The capstone project challenges students to clearly articulate a research question, identify best practices in the field through a literature review, and develop and execute a research design, in which the student is to:

1. Define a research question that addresses an existing public or nonprofit problem.
2. Identify a theoretical model through which to approach the issue.
3. Select appropriate data collection methods.
4. Collect data.
5. Analyze and interpret the data.
6. Develop a written report and oral presentation of the findings and recommendations.

Final projects are presented at a Public Policy and Management Forum during scheduled class time. At the conclusion of the course, students will have demonstrated effective research skills, excellent oral and written communication skills, and will have displayed the level of knowledge necessary for effectively managing a public or non-profit organization as a competent leader.

DUAL DEGREES
SPAA offers the following dual degrees:

JD/MPA
Rutgers University-Newark’s School of Public Affairs and Administration (SPAA) and Rutgers School of Law-Newark have signed a Memorandum of Understanding to establish a dual Juris Doctor/Master of Public Administration (JD/MPA) degree program. The program allows a full-time student to complete the requirements for both the JD and MPA degree in four years (eight full-time semesters). Students who wish to pursue the dual degree must apply for and gain admission to the JD program and the MPA program separately. The student would normally spend the first full-time year completing the required curriculum for the JD degree and the second full-time year completing the core curriculum for the MPA. During the third and fourth years of full-time study, the student would take elective courses from either the JD or MPA curriculum in order to meet the requirements for both degrees. Each program will accept up to 12 credits earned at the other toward satisfaction of the JD or MPA degree requirements, allowing the student to complete the program in eight semesters, rather than the 10 semesters that would be required if the two degrees were earned separately.

Program Information
This dual degree can be completed in four years on a full-time basis (eight full-time semesters). It could take more than eight years on a part-time basis.

Students must complete a total of 30 credits at Rutgers SPAA and a total of 72 credits at Rutgers Law School. After applying to both programs, the student should spend the first full-time year (Fall, Spring, Summer) completing the core curriculum for the JD degree in the Law School. Students should spend the second full-time year completing the core curriculum for the MPA degree in SPAA.

Students can also start in the MPA program and then apply to the JD program, but such students would need to be mindful of ABA Standard and Interpretation 304-5 (“Credit for a JD degree shall only be given for course work taken after the student has matriculated in a law school”). During the third and fourth years of full-time study, the student would take elective courses from either the JD or MPA curriculum in order to meet the requirements for both degrees. For any given semester, the unit with which a student is attempting to earn a majority of credits is the unit with which he/she shall be deemed primarily affiliated during that semester.

MPA/MACCY

The Master of Public Administration (MPA) / Master of Accountancy in Governmental Accounting (MACCY) is a dual degree program designed for pre-career and in-career students to enable them to acquire professional competencies in public administration and governmental accounting within the context of public administration and public financial management. As governments increasingly seek qualified senior-level management staff who are conversant in accounting, auditing budget, and public finance, this unique dual degree program – the first of its kind in the nation – will be of great interest to those want to broaden their skills in both of these fields. The program will familiarize students with the emerging context of public administration and nonprofit organizations in which increased accountability, transparency, and effectiveness require higher mastery of these specific skills.

The program is offered jointly by Rutgers School of Public Affairs and Administration (SPAA), which is accredited by the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs and Administration (NASPAA); and Rutgers Business School, an AACSB accredited institution. Students need to apply separately to the two programs and must identify their interest in the dual degree program on both applications. The MPA program under the dual degree can be completed with 30 credits, instead of the normally required 42 credits. Students in the dual degree program will need to complete a total of 60 credits, 30 from the Rutgers Business School and 30 from the School of Public Affairs and Administration.

Incomplete Grades

Incomplete grades (IN) may be assigned at the discretion of an instructor who believes that an extension of time is warranted for a student whose work is incomplete at the end of the semester as a result of extraordinary circumstances. The student must have satisfactorily completed at least 60% of the coursework to be eligible to receive a grade of incomplete. An instructor assigning an incomplete grade should submit an Incomplete Form, which outlines a deadline by which the student is required to submit missing or incomplete work in order to receive a letter grade. The incomplete grade will automatically convert to the grade indicated on the form (usually an F) if the agreed upon deadline and requirements are not met.

Time Limits for Incompletes: Work must be completed and a change of grade submitted no later than the end of the same semester in the following academic year (fall courses must be completed by the end of the following fall semester, for example). After that date the IN grade will automatically convert to the grade indicated on the Incomplete Form. A one-time, one semester extension may be requested in writing from the MPA Director, and subject to approval by the MPA Executive Committee. If a graduate student has 6 or more credits of incomplete (IN) coursework, future course registration will be denied unless waived in specific cases by the MPA Director. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that an Incomplete Form is completed before the grading period closes for the semester in which they are enrolled.

Grade Appeals

Student complaints about grades are handled within the School of Public Affairs and Administration (SPAA). The process is as follows:

1. The student discusses the grade concern with the instructor of the course within 10 business days of receipt of the questionable grade. The student should include factual information and limit the discussion to measurable elements of the course.

2. If the student is not satisfied with the outcome of the discussion, he or she may appeal the decision to the MPA Director. This appeal must be in writing and present the facts of the student's complaint and any evidence that supports the complainant's claim.
3. The MPA director will discuss the complaint with the student and the instructor and propose a solution.

4. If the student is not satisfied with the outcome at this step, he or she may appeal the decision to the dean of the School of Public Affairs and Administration. All records of the previous steps will be provided to the dean of SPAA. The dean will collect whatever additional evidence he or she considers appropriate and make a decision.

5. Decisions of the dean of the school are final. There are no appeals beyond the dean.

Failing Grades

Students earning a failing grade (below C) in any core course shall:

1) Immediately be returned to academic probationary status;
2) Be subject to an administrative review by the Associate Dean of Student and Academic Services. The Associate Dean will then determine an appropriate course of action for the affected student, with two options:
   A) Dismissal from the program, or
   B) Permission to retake the course in which the failing grade was earned.

Students who are permitted to retake a course in which a failing grade was earned may return to regular status when:

1) A passing grade is earned in the relevant course, and
2) The student’s GPA returns to the threshold.

Students who earn more than one failing grade in any single course will be dismissed from the program. Students should be aware that grades, failing or not, will affect their GPA and that this policy in no way circumvents GPA requirements for program continuation or graduation.

Academic Standing and Annual Assessment

The academic standing evaluations for all MPA students are conducted annually during the summer semester. The Associate Dean of Student and Academic Services will evaluate each transcript and notify the student via letter delivered to their Rutgers email explaining their assessment. If a student’s GPA falls below 3.0, it is required that he/she meet with the Associate Dean for Student and Academic Services immediately. To remain in good standing, a student must maintain a 3.0 GPA or better, and continue making progress toward the MPA degree.

Graduation Requirements

To be eligible to have the MPA degree conferred, each student must, at the time of graduation, have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 and have finished all of the course requirements for the degree.

In order to graduate, the student must apply for graduation at https://grad.admissions.rutgers.edu/Diploma/
The deadlines for applying are:
- August 1st for October degrees
- November 1st for January degrees
- March 1st for May degrees

Even though a student can graduate in October, January or May, there is only one graduation ceremony which is scheduled annually in May.

First Semester Requirement (Intro to PA) Policy

All incoming MPA Students must enroll in Intro to PA (501) during their first semester in the program, or if not available, during the first semester in which it is offered.

Add/Drop

Students are required to make any necessary changes to their registration before the add/drop period closes each semester. These dates can be found at: http://registrar.newark.rutgers.edu/office-registrar-fall-academic-calendar.

No course can be retroactively dropped or added after the deadline.

Deregistration/Reinstatement

If a student is deregistered due to nonpayment, SPAA does not permit students to be reinstated/re-enrolled. If a student is dropped for non-payment the student is not permitted to attend classes or complete coursework.

Late Registrations

Registering for a course after the regular registration period closes will cause a late registration fee (currently $125) to be added to your account. This fee cannot be waived. The registration dates can be found on the Registrar’s website at http://registrar.newark.rutgers.edu/office-registrar-fall-academic-calendar.

Leave of Absence and Time Limits on Completion of the Degree

Students who are obliged to interrupt their studies may, with approval of the Associate Dean for Student and Academic Services, register for matriculation continued. Registering for Matric Continued will keep the student’s status active for one semester. A student must register for Matric Continued for each fall and spring semester until they resume taking courses. Failure to follow this procedure will result in the student’s status changing to inactive, and the student will have to be readmitted to the MPA program in order to take courses again. There is no tuition fee for this registration, although a student fee and a computer fee are charged. Matric Continued only applies to fall or spring semesters; there is no need to register for Matric Continued for the summer or winter semester.
Time limits on Matric Continued: Students can only register for Matric Continued for 4 consecutive semesters (equal to two years). After this time, the student has to enroll in courses and finish the program.

Time limits on completion of the degree: From the semester during which the student is admitted, completion of the MPA program must occur within 7 calendar years. If a student is admitted in fall 2015, for example, that student must finish by summer 2022. This includes any semesters of Matriculation Continued. A one-year extension may be approved by the MPA Director in the event of extraordinary circumstances. Students who fail to complete the degree within these parameters will be subject to dismissal from the program.

Withdrawal/Dismissal

Courses dropped during the first two weeks of class are deleted from the student's record; courses dropped from the third to the 11th week result in a W (Withdrawal) grade and a drop fee charge. This will not affect the student’s GPA.

Students may withdraw from the School of Public Affairs and Administration through the 12th week of classes; the signature of the Associate Dean for Student and Academic Services is required in such cases. No withdrawals of any sort are permitted during the last two weeks of classes; students who leave the University during this period are considered still officially enrolled and receive final grades for the semester. Depending on when the withdrawal occurs, student might get full, partial or no refund.

To withdraw from the school, the student must complete the withdrawal form and submit it to the Assistant Dean for Graduate Programs.

Transferring Graduate Credits from an Undergrad Degree

If a student received credits for graduate courses as part of an undergraduate degree, these credits will not be transferred into the MPA program unless the student is in our 5-year BA/MPA program.

Transferring Graduate Credits

Students can transfer up to 12 credits from an accredited master’s program. In order to transfer credits, the student must complete the Application for Transfer Credits form and submit it to the MPA Director with an official transcript. Students may request evaluation for transfer credits at any time, but those credits are not granted until a student has completed 12 credits with a B or better in our MPA program. Transfer credits are applied to the concentration/elective courses.

Requirements for transfer credits:
- Student must have an unconditional admission into the MPA program
- Student must have completed 12 credits of B or better in the MPA program
- Transfer courses must be at graduate level with a B or better
- Courses should have been taken within the past 6 years
Courses must equal 3 credit hours each

Curricular Practical Training (CPT) Policy

Applicable to international students only. International SPAA students may take advantage of the Office of International Student Services (OISS) CPT program by registering for an approved internship course for credit. No other MPA courses will be considered for CPT approval. Students must adhere to all requirements for the CPT program as determined by OISS, as well as all credit-bearing SPAA internship requirements and other MPA policies.

Academic Integrity

Principles of academic integrity require that every Rutgers University student:

- Properly acknowledge and cite all use of the ideas, results, or words of others;
- Properly acknowledge all contributors to a given piece of work;
- Make sure that all work submitted as his or her own in a course or other academic activity is produced without the aid of unsanctioned materials or unsanctioned collaboration;
- Obtain all data or results by ethical means and report them accurately, without suppressing any results inconsistent with his or her interpretation or conclusions;
- Treat all other students in an ethical manner, respecting their integrity and right to pursue their educational goals without interference. This requires that a student neither facilitate academic dishonesty by others nor obstruct their academic progress; and
- Uphold the canons of the ethical or professional code of the profession for which he or she is preparing.

Adherence to these principles is necessary in order to insure that:

- Everyone is given proper credit for his or her ideas, words, results, and other scholarly accomplishments;
- All student work is fairly evaluated and no student has an inappropriate advantage over others;
- The academic and ethical development of all students is fostered;
- The reputation of the University for integrity in its teaching, research, and scholarship is maintained and enhanced; and
- Failure to uphold these principles of academic integrity threatens both the reputation of the University and the value of the degrees awarded to its students. Every member of the University community therefore bears a responsibility for ensuring that the highest standards of academic integrity are upheld.

All new students are required to complete the Academic Integrity tutorial during their first semester. Our office will remind you, and you can find the tutorial on Blackboard under ‘More Organizations Plus’. Failure to complete the tutorial will result in suspension of your registration for the upcoming semester.

The Dr. Michael Gershowitz Writing and Career Development Center

The Dr. Michael Gershowitz Writing and Career Development Center provides focused help to students preparing for leadership roles in the public and nonprofit sectors. The Center’s staff assists students in conceptualizing and organizing professional and academic materials. The primary focus of the Writing and Career Development Center is to aid both undergraduate and graduate students in the development of career materials, including resumes, cover letters and personal statements. Services will also include graduate-level academic coaching. A series of career seminars will cover writing fundamentals throughout the semester. Career and internship opportunities will be posted on the SPAA website under “Career Services.”

Coaching Sessions

The coaching sessions, which are scheduled by appointment, are one-on-one. They are designed to fit the needs of each student. The objective of these 45-60 minute meetings is to provide students with the tools that they need to fully express their ideas to the best of their ability. While grammar and syntax are essential elements of all well-constructed papers, sessions will concentrate on developing structure, organization and contextual relationships to effectively communicate. Students should come to these sessions prepared to discuss their work in detail.

Career Seminars

Career seminars will focus on creating custom-tailored resumes, CVs, cover letters and personal statements. These seminars are open to everyone. Students will learn to research their field in order to find internships and jobs which will lead them toward fulfilling careers. Seminars will also address other important issues, such as appropriate interviewing attire and etiquette.

Editing Services

Students whose work may require intensive edits will be referred to an independent editor. They will have access to these services for a small fee.
