ADMINISTRATIVE AND PROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP

Director—Transparency and Governance Center, School of Public Affairs and Administration, Rutgers University-Newark, July 2012–present.

The Transparency and Governance Center employs graduate students to work with faculty on related projects and programming linking the theories of transparency to practical, applied policies. Visiting scholars from all over the world come to SPAA to work on transparency- and governance-related research projects. From 2014 to 2017, the Institute, under the leadership of Professor Piotrowski, served as independent national assessor for the United States' Open Government Partnership action plan.

- Raised funds (over $100,000) to enable students and visiting scholars to conduct research and host events.
- Founded and runs the International Transparency and Secrecy Research Network listserv with 450 members.

Deputy Dean—School of Public Affairs and Administration, Rutgers University-Newark, July 2015–December 2016.

General Responsibilities

- Represented SPAA at school-, campus-, and university-wide senior leadership meetings and other events in dean's absence.
- Ran faculty meetings in dean's absence.
- Drafted revision to the school bylaws and non-tenure track faculty criteria with faculty input.
- Worked with the dean to establish a process of reviewing school research centers and conducted in-depth review of a decanal center.

Academic Programs

- Had dean's level authority to approve final grade changes submitted by faculty and staff in the Rutgers system.
- Handled grade appeals on dean's behalf.
- Membership on all academic committees (BA, MPA, and PhD) during AY 2015/16.

Personnel Issues

- Acted as SPAA faculty lead for dean's search, working with chair of search committee and executive search firm.
- Chaired three tenure-track searches and NTT search.
- Involved in filling key staffing positions, including the associate dean of Academic and Student Services.
- Wrote letters for visa and green card applications for incoming faculty members. Led efforts to transition new faculty members to SPAA.

Acting Associate Dean of Academic and Student Services—School of Public Affairs and Administration, Rutgers University-Newark, September 2015–January 2016.

- Oversaw five direct reports who were responsible for student advising and services, including the writing center.
- Recruited, assigned, and supervised all adjunct faculty members and addressed problems as they arose.
- Worked with faculty program directors on scheduling classes across programs.
- Spearheaded student recruitment, enrollment goals, and planned school-wide open houses.
- Helped draft all academic policies and curriculum.

Chair—Section on Ethics and Integrity of Governance American Society of Public Administration. Immediate past chair 2015–17; chair 2013–15; chair-elect 2012–13.

- Spearheaded section initiative to change name from Ethics Section to Section on Ethics and Integrity of Governance (SEIGOV) to reflect the broad interest of the group.
- Organized elections, LinkedIn, and Google groups.
- Ran yearly meetings and headed committee to appoint new editor of Public Integrity journal.

Faculty Chair MPA Executive Committee—School of Public Affairs and Administration, Rutgers University-Newark, AY 2012/13.

- Chaired SPAA faculty committee, which oversaw academic policy and standards for MPA committee.
- During this period, the fully online MPA launched.
- Led committee to make recommendations to faculty as a whole on new programs and revisions to curriculum.

Faculty Fellow—Office of the Chancellor, Rutgers University-Newark, August 2009–May 2010.

- Shadowed Chancellor Steve Diner for academic year.
- Acted as liaison between chancellor and American Council on Education (ACE) Leadership Fellows.
- Co-chaired campus-wide committee on community-based learning.
- Organized annual campus-wide Chancellor's Research Day.
